

Ring size guide

Please try to provide us with the correct ring size when you place your order. The most accurate way to have your finger size measured is with a professional jeweller with the correct tools. Alternative methods such as paper or string can be convenient but these can stretch and twist and may not provide a precise measurement.

All ring purchases are inclusive of a complimentary resize (plus shipping from us) within three months of delivery. Resizing and shipping fees will be charged outside of this timeline. Shipping, handling and custom fees for resizes are the sole responsibility of the customer. If you have any questions about sizing, please contact us via email.

Tips for measuring your ring sizes:

Your finger size can change during the day and temperature – how hot/cold they are – your fingers tend to be at their largest at the end of the day. We recommend measuring your finger several times at estimate your ring size.

A wider band will feel tighter than a narrower band. When purchasing a particularly wide band, we recommend choosing a full size larger than your normal ring size, even for the same finger.

When measuring a size, particularly pay attention to the knuckle of your chosen finger. A ring should be loose enough to slide over the knuckle comfortably, especially when removing.
